

Democrats Demonize Tax Reform!

Same playbook - different day

Friday, October 17, 2014

The Democrats are at it again demonizing ideas they are afraid of! Today, voters in District 29B received the Democrat slate's disingenuous mailer about my long term tax reform ideas.

It is true, I am a supporter of revamping the state and federal tax system - this isn't a new idea. I recommend reading the Fair Tax Book by Neal Boortz. I like and support the Fair Tax idea (although I don't think the tax rate would need to be as high as the book recommends or the Democrat mailer promotes).

Our current system is too complex and hard to negotiate. It rewards those who can afford to hire someone who can research the tax code to find every available tax break. And those who can't afford to hire someone is left to fend for themselves often not getting the best possible return or going astray of the law. In addition, the current tax code - especially the income tax - punishes you for being successful! Why isn't the government encouraging success instead of punishing you? And what makes them think they are entitled to the fruits of your labor?

© Randy Glasbergen
glasbergen.com

"If death and taxes are inevitable, how come we never hear about the death of taxes?"

Instead the Democrats try to scare you by calling the idea a European Style Tax Scheme. The European Tax style includes a Value Added Tax system. This is where a tax is added to every step of the manufacturing process. The Fair Tax promotes one sales tax at the retail end of the sale. And it does not promote taxing wholesale or re-sale items - like your house when you sell it to someone else.

This is a starting point for discussion. But obviously the Democrat politicians won't be at the table because they prefer to tax you every which way possible - even when you die.